Make a big difference to Emma's Trust without it costing you a penny more.

As from June 24th 2006, all the donations you give to Emma's Trust could be worth an additional 28 pence for every £1 you give. If you pay UK tax, either income tax or capital gains tax all your donations are eligible for Gift Aid. This means that the government will refund the Trust for the tax that you have paid on that donation and any subsequent donations at the basic rate of tax, currently 22%. All that is required is that you agree to gift aid all your donations to Emma's Trust from June 24th 2006 and every £1 that you give will be worth £1.28 to us. And it doesn't matter how large or small your donation is. The only requirement on your part is that you pay a total amount in tax that is at least equal to the total amount that the charity claims on your behalf in any one tax year. If you cease paying tax at any time in the future all you need to do is inform us and we will cancel your Gift Aid declaration.

Another important change is that your declaration can be made either in advance of your donation or at any time after the donation, up to a period of 6 years, which is the time limit for the charity to reclaim the tax.

It couldn't be simpler!

Some additional points

Higher Rate Tax Payers

If you are higher rate tax payer you can claim higher rate tax relief for your donations on either income tax or capital gains tax

Non UK residents and members of the Armed Services

If you are a Crown servant or a member of the armed services or are a non resident UK tax payer you can also qualify for a gift aid declaration.

Companies

Companies no longer have to pay tax on their gift aid contributions to charities, which means that the gross amount goes straight to the Trust. In addition the company doesn't have to make a gift aid declaration of any kind.
